To Whom it May Concern,

Code 3 Events, Inc. is a wonderful non-profit organization that serves the community in Delray Beach and the surrounding area. Working to provide a family, alcohol-free event to the area through the annual Delray Beach Saint Patrick's Day Parade, this organization exceeds its goals every year.

The organizational team of Code 3 Events, Inc. pays attention to all facets of the event, with no detail too small to consider. From transportation of participants, management of staging areas, and organizing trash pickup and security, they strive to make the Delray Beach Saint Patrick's Day Parade one that observers and families will remember for years to come.

They boost the economy of local hotels and restaurants by inviting participants who travel to partake in the Parade from around the United States and beyond. This helps area businesses and residents as well as spread the word of how great South Florida and Delray Beach is.

In today's world, highlighting first responders in a positive light is necessary and welcomed. Code 3 Events, Inc. helps people of all ages see community service personnel in a different way which helps foster appreciation for them.

The recent addition of adding veterans from World War II to the parade has fostered a deep sense of patriotism. These men and women who served their country, and who are in their golden years, are blessed by the tremendous response received from other parade participants and parade observers.

I highly recommend that you consider this community-oriented organization for any grant requested. They are a wonderful asset to the community.
